THE STATED ANNUAL MEETING

The Stated Annual Meeting of the congregation will take place on Sunday 9th October after morning worship in the church.

LIVE STREAMING OF WORSHIP

The technical equipment in the Church Sanctuary allows streaming via You Tube on Sunday Mornings.

Anyone wishing to view the service should click on the link, which is emailed to the congregation each week from the church office. The service can also be found by searching on You Tube. Once in 'You Tube' simply type in 'Greenbank Church Morning Service' and select the correct service.

Please note that with live streaming there is about a minutes delay before the service is transmitted from the church to people at home. Please be patient if it is a little later than 10.30am before the service starts.

Those attending worship in the Church Sanctuary on Sundays are also asked to note that services are being streamed. The camera being used to transmit images is downstairs, just in front of the balcony area. The cameras will film the pews directly in front of it, the side pews at the front and the chancel area of the church. Members of the congregation who do not wish to be 'caught on camera' are asked to select their seats appropriately.

ACCESSING SUNDAY WORSHIP LIVE BY TELEPHONE OR AS A RECORDING

For those who do not have a computer and are unable to attend church there is an option of using their telephone to listen to the service. Simply dial 0141 815 1166 at 10.30am if you wish to listen to the service live; alternatively you can listen to a recording of the most recent service from the Monday until the Saturday of the following week. When you dial to hear the most recent recording you will firstly hear a message from Jeanne and then some music. Please wait until the music stops and then, when asked to do so, press 1 on you telephone keypad.

Dear Friends,

The poignant poem printed on page 2 of the Good Neighbour, was published on the front page of The Sunday Times, on 11th September. It was written by Alexander McCall Smith, to mark the occasion of the death of Queen Elizabeth II.

Yours,

Day in September

When we lose from our accustomed world
Something that had been part of the map

By which we thought we might manage
To find a way along what seems like
An increasingly difficult path,
We know there is little point
In dwelling too long on the inevitability
That dictates that everything ends;
Yet knowing the way a story concludes
Doesn't make the actual ending
Any easier, nor transform to any extent
The way in which the playwright
Writes the concluding act, the final lines.

Our picture of the world we inhabit
Is made up of the daily and the familiar,
Of places that form the background
Of our ordinary lives, always present,
Like certain people we assume
Will not really have to leave us,
And then suddenly are no longer there,
And we notice their loss, as if the lights
Have been suddenly dimmed,
Or a clock that was ticking
Has fallen silent, its hands
Stopping at an arbitrary
And unremarkable time:
A moment when most of us
Were doing nothing special,
Before we were told that something
We knew must happen, has happened.

It is at such times that reaching
The end of the final act, the point
At which the stage curtain must fall,
We realise what it is that we miss
In the normal way we lead our lives;
And we look for things that are permanent,
And not glibly imitated, nor for sale:
Duty and kindness, old-fashioned virtues
That we should never have dreamed
We did not need, but without which
The play in which we all are actors
Will not end well; we see these qualities,
And understand, with sudden shock,
How much we need one another,
How much we want to do better
With our bruised and suffering world,
How much we want love, not selfishness,
To be the note to which the orchestra tunes,
The note taken up by the chorus, and sung
Loud enough to drown out all the other noise.

Prayer Diary

"Opal-tinted, and golden, and brown,
Summer's dead treasures come sailing down;
Rolling masses of clouds overhead
Passed to the rim of the evening red..."
(Excerpt from 'Love for All Time' - JJ Britton)

The days, the months and the seasons pay no heed to the events which shape our world. They roll onwards relentlessly, following the rhythms set down for them at the very beginning of time. In our lifetimes we experience events which feel huge - we feel that things will never be the same again. Yet the natural world moves on, and sooner or later, our own equilibrium is restored.

Last month saw the death of a monarch who has been part of the majority of people's lives for as long as they have been alive. We all know how strange it feels when we lose someone close to us, and we turn round and expect them to be there. The next while is going to be as strange as that for us, even though we didn't actually know her. I know you will have had the Queen's family in your prayers these last few weeks, and please also remember others who are grieving, whether they have lost someone to illness, through violence, or an accident.

Please also give thanks for the service which Her Majesty gave throughout her life, and for the sense of duty she had, right up to the end of her life. And pray for the new King, as he steps into her footsteps, and ask that God gives him the strength and wisdom he needs.

Ask also that our new Prime Minister will find ways to help people as they struggle with the cost of living; and for all the businesses whose costs have soared beyond all belief.

Hold in your hearts the people of Pakistan, whose lives have been so devastated by the extensive flooding which has wiped out the life they've known. Just one more example of how our planets interlocking cycles have been disrupted.

And of course keep in your hearts everyone embroiled in conflicts the world over. No matter who is right or wrong. Every death brings grief to family and friends.

'Come to me, all of you who are tired from carrying heavy loads, and I will give you rest.'
(Matthew 11:28)

Gillian

TIME OUT

We started our new session with our Cheese & Wine evening. We had a toast and paid our respects to the late Queen Elizabeth II.

It was a good turn out and hopefully in the weeks to come we could welcome a few more new members.

Our upcoming meetings are on 6th October when we welcome a discussion on mindfulness, and 20th October when we will have a Quiz & Games night. Always a fun night, it's not the winning, it's the taking part.

LEGACY FUND

Thank you again to all those who continue to contribute to our Legacy Fund.

Pledges can be, and have been, made for any amount of money you can afford, and spread over a few years by standing order if that suits you better. Alternatively a one-off payment by bank transfer or cheque can be made, and you can also donate to the project online by logging on to our church website, following the link to the Legacy Project and clicking the red "Donate Online" button.

Spare pledge and bank standing order forms are available from myself or the Church Secretary, should you require any.

Please remember that every donation, of whatever size, is both needed and warmly welcome.

OFFERINGS

Dear Friends,

Since lockdown many members have continued to remit funds to the church, and I would like to thank them all for doing this. It is a great help to our church's finances.

The best way to maintain your freewill offerings to the church, if possible, is to make a direct payment into the Church's bank account, putting your freewill offering number in the payment reference box. For those wishing to do this, please email me at: alistairsmith@ntlworld.com and I will supply you with the church's bank account details. Alternatively, you can send a cheque made out to Greenbank Parish Church with your freewill offering number, and I will lodge it with other cheques received.

My address is 26 Stewart Drive, Clarkston G76 7EZ.

Thank you for your support. Alistair Smith, Treasurer

JUST A LUMP OF ROCK?

When King Charles III is crowned, much like his mother Queen Elizabeth II was 70 years ago, the stone will play an important part in his coronation. The Stone - also known as the Stone of Scone or the Coronation Stone - was once a sacred symbol in the crowning of Scottish kings King Edward I of England stole the stone from the Scots in 1296 during the First Scottish War of Independence. Edward 'Longshanks' then had it built into a new throne at Westminster. The stone was then used for coronations of English and United Kingdom kings and queens

So why was it important? According to legend it is actually the biblical Stone of Jacob from the Book of Genesis, which, according to the Old Testament, was what Jacob used as a pillow when he had his famous vision of a stairway leading to heaven, which became known as Jacob's Ladder. People thought it was a holy object which made a new king or queen, when they sat on it, ruler in the eyes of God.

The legend says the stone came all the way from Egypt to Ireland and was then captured by the Scots and taken to Iona which was a centre of Scottish Christianity. It was then moved to Scone, near Perth where Scottish kings were crowned. After Edward stole it, it ended up in Westminster Abbey in London. In 1950 the stone was stolen back by some Scottish students. It was returned to Westminster in 1952, although some people think that the stone taken back was a fake and that the original still resides in Scotland.

It was finally officially returned to Scotland a quarter of a century ago, on St Andrew's Day in November 1996, to Edinburgh Castle. However, it will now make a brief return to London for the coronation of King Charles III, in line with an agreement with the people of Scotland. Who would have thought a lump of rock could be so important?

It's starting to get a bit darker at night and in the mornings as Autumn arrives. All the leaves are turning red and golden and you should be able to find conkers on the trees, which is always good fun. When we were little we used to put a hole through the centre of them and thread them onto string! Maybe you have tried that too.

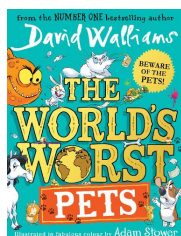

This month in Sunday Club and JAM we're going to hear stories from Luke 17&18, including 'the mustard seed' and 'Zacchaeus in the sycamore tree'.

On the first Sunday in October, it will be our Harvest Thanksgiving service, and we'll be thanking God for all of our food. We're also asked to bring donations of food to church for the Lodging House Mission so they can use them to make meals for homeless people.

You'll have a holiday from school and Sunday Club in the middle of the month and at the end of the month we'll have the first Youth Service in a long time. All the uniformed organisations will join us in church. We thank God for bringing us all back together again.

WHO NEEDS A MOBILE!

Chimpanzees are not only one of our closest relatives, they're also one of the most intelligent - and just like us, it seems they enjoy staying in touch with friends but in a pretty unique way.

Scientists from the University of St Andrews have found that the animals drum out messages to one another on tree roots. In fact, they each have their own "signature drumming style". The chimps use this as a sort of 'social media' - with the rhythms allowing them to send information over long distances, revealing who they are, where they are and what they are doing! The chimps were also sneaky because they could disguise their location by changing the drum beat.

The chimps mostly use their feet, but also their hands to make the sound, which carries more than a kilometre through the dense rainforest. Each chimpanzee had its own style of drumming - with some preferring straightforward rock beats while others grooved to more jazzlike rhythms!

LOVE SONGS FOR HEALING AND HOPE

You may remember, a couple of years ago, there was an article in Good Neighbour about the book, 'Love Song for a Wounded Warrior' written by Rev Fiona Gardner, a former Assistant at Greenbank, in memory of her late husband, Colin. Fiona has now written a sequel entitled 'Love Songs for Healing and Hope' an encouraging resource book for those who have experienced loss and sorrow. The book aims to be a supportive tool for people who have experienced loss. In it Fiona discusses the longer term effects of bereavement and trauma, and shares stories offered by ten colleagues and friends who have also faced life changing situations. The book is offered as a selection of resources, blogs and reflections which might be supportive to those who are finding life tough in these days.

All proceeds of this book go to charity, split equally between 'Quiet Waters' in Camelon, Falkirk, and 'Richmond's Hope', both charities that provide support to people who are finding life difficult.

Please contact woundedwarriorfg@gmail.com if you would like to know more. Copies of the book can be obtained for £15 from the author at the above email plus postage, or from 76 Victoria Park Drive North, Glasgow G14 9PJ or from Handsel Press (have a look at <https://handselpress.co.uk/product/love-songs-for-healing-and-hope/>) – but you will raise more money for the two charities if you approach the author directly.

Thank you,

Rev Fiona Gardner

The 223rd Glasgow Company Boys' Brigade is just starting our new session. The Company was founded in Greenbank Parish Church in 1924 and look forward to celebrating their 100th anniversary in 2024. With Greenbank church halls shortly undergoing redevelopment, we are pleased this session to be able to offer our programme every Friday evening from Busby Parish Church, Church Road, Busby G76 8EB. The Anchors Boys (P1-P3) and the Junior Section (P4-P6) meet from 6.30pm to 7.45pm with the Company from 7.45 to 10pm. All ages are warmly welcome to turn up any evening or alternatively if you would like more information please email 223boysbrigade@tiscali.co.uk.

LODGING HOUSE MISSION

Donations for the LHM can be put on the trolley in the Link building on Mondays, Wednesdays and Thursdays 9am-12noon; Saturdays and Sundays 9.45am-11.30am. UHT milk and sugar are particularly requested. Spare plastic bags would also be appreciated to use for take-out meals. Clothing is not required at the moment.

Envelopes are also available for donations of money. Please complete your details on the envelope (so that Gift Aid can be claimed if relevant and your donation can be acknowledged) and either hand to me, place in an offering bag during the service or post in the letterbox at the entrance to the church halls. Please do not leave these envelopes on the trolley with the other donations. All donations are very much appreciated.

Volunteering to help Greenbank help LHM

We still need volunteers to join the rota to deliver the donated items to the LHM on a suitable day during the week. If you would like to help on a rota basis, please email the church secretary at office@greenbankglasgow.org.uk or call 0141 644 1841 and leave a message on the church office answering machine.

Thank you,

Latest Bulletin

Dear Supporters,

We have had a busy summer season and are now making our preparations for the Harvest season and the launch of our Harvest Appeal.

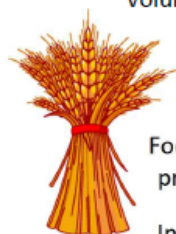

As many of you know, LHM lost a substantial amount of food during August due to an electrical fault which defrosted all of freezers. Our heartfelt thanks to all our supporters who donated to our Facebook appeal to replace our food and donated sufficient funds to repair the electrical fault.

August has been kept busy with folks using our free meal provisions and significantly our guests are finding they can reduce their energy costs while at LHM;

Food Service	Breakfast	Lunch
Meals	879 (+246)	1485 (+189)

Following the sad news of the death of Her Majesty Queen Elizabeth II on Thursday 8th September LHM'S Annual Service for Homelessness was postponed. We hope to welcome Rt Rev Dr Iain Greenshields, moderator of the Church of Scotland, later in the year.

LHM Harvest Appeal has now been launched. If you are able to volunteer to sort donations, please call our office or email June.

Our food list is available on our Facebook page, from presbytery office or your church representative. LHM will be accepting donations of Harvest Foods at our East Campbell Street premises Monday - Friday. Please call ahead to ensure our team can provide adequate support.

In order to advertise the Harvest Appeal we have a short promotional video which can be shown as part of school or Church Harvest Services, follow the link; https://youtu.be/qMA_7omZGdI

POSTPONED

With thanks to our activities co-ordinator Mark, our guests have enjoyed summer outings to Largs, Jacobean train – Fort William to Mallaig, Burrell Collection, fishing, go karting and Kelvingrove Bowling Green. Much fun has been had, friendships deepened and memories made. As we move back indoors Mark is keen to add new activities. We would be grateful for any donations of unwanted Xbox or PlayStation consoles and games, badminton rackets, indoor bowls, or if you have other suggestions give us a call 0141 552 0285 and ask for Mark.

As we approach this Harvest Season we pray that the Harvest is plentiful and that the Harvest Appeal provides nourishment for us throughout the year. We pray for richer and fuller lives for all. We pray for the royal family following the death of Queen Elizabeth II.

So let us not become tired of doing good; for if we do not give up, the time will come when we will reap the harvest. Gal 6:9 GNT
